

The Vaccine Cult by Dr. John Fudens HMC DVM PH

It has been over 20 years since I wrote the article, "Rabies the Big Scam." The only change since I wrote it has been that the vaccine industry has now become a cult, and the damage to humans and animals has gotten much, much worse. Dictionary definition of a cult is "a system of religious worship or ritual with devoted attachment, or extravagant admiration to a principle or fad." What I am writing about applies to both humans and animals, unless otherwise noted. The whole basis of injectable vaccines is to provide immunity against diseases that the body's immune system and vital force (in homeopathy, that which protects and evolves the body) cannot provide for itself. In theory this sounds wonderful, but is sadly lacking in the real world. Yes, antibodies are produced against diseases like measles, mumps, etc., but at what cost. Not the cost of the visit to the MD or Veterinarian, but both the short and long range damage to the health of the life form receiving them. I am not even talking about the stew and toxic material making up the vaccines, the like of which is mercury, antibiotics to prevent contamination, formaldehyde as a preservative, which is embalming fluid, aluminum, aborted baby tissue cells, (anyone following the crimes of Planned parenthood selling baby parts) protein from ducks, monkeys and other life forms. In other words, a toxic sewage dump of items you would never consider putting into your body, or the bodies of loved ones, if you truly knew what was in the syringe. I may do another article about all the damage that is done by vaccines causing all sorts of diseases and illnesses, including cancers. That is, if I am not run out of town by the powers that be after they read this article.

Of course, the criminals in drug/vaccine companies, and their prostitute minions, will all claim they have cleaned up the vaccines so that no damage exists. Go online and look up what is in the vaccines or, better yet, get your physician or vet to let you look at the inserts that come with vaccines, describing what is in them, the side effects, contraindications, and when and when not to use them, i.e., only in healthy life forms. I will give you a lollipop if you are not shown the door, never to come back. Yes, yes, there may very well be some enlightened MD's and vets who will work with you, but they are few and far between. More on why this is so, later.

When I said earlier "much worse," I mean the constant and vigorous assault on our lives and way of living from the pushers of vaccines. The attacks on our freedoms, self determinism, religions, rights, and abilities to make up our own minds about what is best for us and our loved ones, free speech, and more. The Federal and State Constitutions in this country have in them freedom of religion of our choice. It makes up the first article/amendment/clause of the Constitution, and is the foundation which is supposed to protect us, as the spiritual beings we are. To worship as we choose, as long as we honor others the same right.

Without a lesson in the law, our rights come to us as sovereign native spiritual beings, not from any humans who wrote a political paper establishing a central government. Which now contains sociopathic humans who are enslaving and controlling us under the clarion call of knowing what is best for us. Rather than each individual knowing better than anyone else the best way to live their life. Government is an organization to protect the rights we have as sovereign beings not to give us rights. The religious exemption against forced vaccines is the most important of the three exemptions that are in place. The other two are philosophical and medical.

Now, it will a cold day in some place below ground to get a vet or MD to give you a medical exemption in order to not have anymore vaccines. It is possible in some cases, but extremely rare, as medical practitioners do not want to put their licenses to practice in jeopardy. If they give out too many exemptions, they risk the wrath of the political system, their license boards, the legal system, politicians, assaults from the drug/vaccine companies and other vested interest groups that push vaccines. Next is philosophical, which will never happen. Chickens will grow teeth before that becomes a reality. So the only exemption for people to rely on is religious, which is the basis of this article. I have watched, for some time, the push to remove this exemption and have decided to fight back in my own small way by writing this article.

To recap, what most enlightened, intelligent people already know (but may not have the full story, or even know what to do), hopefully this article will help. It is almost impossible to go any where in this country (other nations in the world are far ahead of us in recognizing the dangers of vaccines, and have put in place ways to stop the damage) without running into both the hard and soft sell to have vaccines. Go to markets/stores like Walmart/ Walgreens (to name two), and the signs, outside and inside, are in your face about getting vaccinated. Try going to any school, from kindergarten to college, and get in without vaccines, or without getting "current" ones. Try going to the office of a vet/MD/pediatrician or even a hospital, and see if you get in the door without the hard push. Look at the ads on the internet, magazines, papers, TV and other forms of mass media to see the subtle, and not so subtle, push, nudge to get vaccinated. So let's look at who is behind all this effort to have everyone vaccinated over and over to destroy health. Please do not let some of my words bother you. Don't try to kill the messenger without first understanding the message. I call it like I know it, and have no respect for the humans I am about to list.

1. The humans in the drug/vaccine/Big Pharma companies. Please, as we go along, remember that companies/organization, groups etc., cannot harm or do us damage. It is the criminal, evil, sociopath humans who make up companies/governments which seek to harm us by the force those organizations have. Humans push the vaccine agenda. The syringe does not push itself into your body part. The human holding the syringe does that. Big Pharma uses the corrupt minions in government to push vaccines on to us by buying the politicians with contributions. Look at the campaign lists of all the politicians in state and federal government and you will see the ones who have the power to push vaccines on us are the ones who get the money.

If vaccines were so wonderful and harmless, why is it impossible to sue the companies for the damages they cause? Here is another scam. Big Pharma knows exactly all the harm and injuries vaccines do. So, to keep from getting sued, they have gone to the corrupt politicians, given them millions of dollars to pass laws making it impossible for you to sue them. So the criminals in government set up a vaccine damage board, whereby claims of vaccine damage are handled, and taxpayer money is dispensed to settle wrongful injury or deaths from vaccines. The criminals (Big Pharma) who cause the injury by pushing vaccines, do not pay one cent in damages. They use the force and power of government to protect themselves from legal consequences. This is a mafia racket, and if you or I ever did anything close to this, we would be behind bars with the key thrown away. Two quotes to consider:

George Washington said it best when he refused to accept the title King after we won our freedom from England: "Government is not reason or eloquence, but force. And, like fire, it is a dangerous servant and fearful master."

He was talking about the degraded, evil, power hungry humans who gravitate to government because the force and power of government that can, and will, be used against people.

“The world is governed by far different persons than what is imagined by those not behind the scenes”--Benjamin Disraeli. To grasp the rest of this message, one must know that while you see individuals everywhere, those “far different persons” who govern us see, instead, a herd of people to be indoctrinated, intimidated, regulated, enslaved, and exterminated as they see fit.

2. Next, let's look at the political system. Can anyone who has a thinking, intelligent mind tell me that the humans who make up the political system, two parties, bureaucracy (and others who hang on, whether elected or appointed) are not corrupt and rotten to the core? Do we seriously doubt that?! You are told to vote for the lesser of two evils, which will make a difference, but in my book that is still voting for evil. Would you rather be hung or shot?? So, we have humans who are bought and sold before they are even elected by vested interest groups, one of which is Big Pharma. If you look up their donations, you will find millions of dollars given to the campaigns of politicians in both parties, to make sure whoever gets in will do the donors' bidding. In other words, push the vaccine and drugs agenda. An example: Every non-elected, appointed official high up in the FDA, who makes medical decisions which affect us, come from drug companies. The politicians who receive that prostitution money then appoint them to the decision-making posts. While there, they push the vaccine and drug agenda for the companies they represent. These sociopaths stay for as long as they can, and then a new crop comes on board. A revolving door system. If you do not believe this, do some research on the net.

3. Next are the medical professions, both veterinary and human. I was a licensed veterinarian in both NY and Florida for 25 years, starting with conventional medicine, and then applying holistic therapies to conventional, until I finally sold out my hospital/practice, gave back the licenses, and became a doctor of homeopathy, caring for animals, children and adults. In 52 years, I have seen the damage from vaccines, both from what I did as a vet, and the actions of others. People in these groups may feel they are doing the best they can, but in reality they are nothing more than highly trained technicians. That is all I was. I felt I was the cat's meow, could do nothing wrong, and the savior for animals. It took putting a German Shepherd dog to sleep, because I could not help him any further, that gave me my epiphany, so I could look at myself and what I was doing wrong. That started my path away from conventional medicine. Medical people have a license to practice, which they must protect every day from the threat of people getting lawyers and suing them. Or filing complaints with the various boards who will fine and punish them some way for not up holding the standards in the community. One of the standards being to vigorously push vaccines. In my experience of 52 years I have seen practitioners who know exactly the damage they are doing, but don't care because they are making money, paying off loans, living the good life with all their fancy houses, cars, toys and, in general, enjoying the professional status. The vast majority of them are pretty decent humans, but are afraid to really take a look at what they are doing with vaccines, for whatever reasons they have. Personally, they are cowards, and I have no respect for them.

So, will the average vet or MD take action, and practice with ethics, principles, integrity, and what is best for their patients, no matter what the medical boards and others in authority think or say?? It takes a very big man or woman to do so. That person should be elected president in my world. Here is another quote:

Dr. Herbert M. Shelton (1895--1985). He was one of the great health educators of our time, and he gave this warning for our careful consideration:

'Doctors are not supermen and superwomen, elevated above the great mass of mankind, and freed from the immoral and selfish interests and forces against which we all struggle, and to which many of us frequently succumb. No 'healer' and no school of 'healing' should be regarded as any more than it is -- a trades person and a trade school, exploiting the sick for profit.

'Why one cult should be woven into the warp and woof of our government, exalted -- by law -- to the position of deity, and permitted to use the advantages thus gained, to crush out all other cults and all anti-medical movements, is difficult to understand. Why in choosing the cult to thus enthrone, was the most destructive and deadly of all the cults selected?

'This cult has been permitted to use public funds to carry on its propaganda and to employ the police power to force its schemes and methods upon the indifferent or even antagonistic public. It has gradually worked its way into the public schools, the army and navy, and among the elderly, and has gained complete control of these. State medicine is the result.

'All of this has been done, of course, under the pretense of 'protecting the public health.' But their real motives are both apparent and transparent.

"The Allopathic Cult has no more interest in the public health than any of the other cults; and none of them are bent on preserving public health, since this would ruin their incomes! The Physician does not secure his fees from the well, but from the sick. He is, therefore, interested in the sick -- not in the well!"

How is that for a quote from a physician!! Without exception every conventional medical establishment depends on life forms being sick and diseased or they could not exist!! Can you start to see why vaccines are so heavily pushed. They cause the diseases and damage that continental medicine then tries to ride to the rescue and cure. Try putting out a fire by pouring gasoline on it!! Can you start to see why conventional medical practitioners for people and animals will not look at what they are doing.

4. Next we have the mass media in this country and the planet. From what I can research, there are only 5-6 companies who control all avenues of communication. That is a monopoly in my book, as they all know one another and cooperate in making sure the public only sees and hears what they want them to see and hear. Any form of media depends on money to function and exist, and the biggest source of their money is advertising revenue. Big Pharma spends many millions every year pushing drugs and vaccines. Look at all the ads on the tube. The first 15 seconds are telling you what the drugs do. The last 45 seconds are giving you all the risks and contraindications. It is rare, if not impossible, to hear or see anything about the dangers of vaccines.

When I look at all the humans behind the vaccine issue, no matter on what level, I see only two choices for their actions:

A. They know exactly the dangers of the vaccines, and what they are doing to people and animals. This makes them, in my book, criminals, evil, psychopaths and sociopaths. However hard that may be to look at, and even if you wish to get after me for saying so, please look at the evidence first. If you then wish to condemn me, have at it. I am not some conspiracy theory nut, and will not change what I know about what is going on. One of the most difficult issues the human mind has trouble with is, it cannot confront evil. It does not resonate with who we really are (decent people who wish to get along with most everyone else) and, more important, if we do recognize it, we are forced to decide what to do about it. Two favorite quotes are as follows:

“Most people prefer to believe their leaders are just and fair, even in the face of evidence to the contrary, because once a citizen acknowledges that the government under which they live is lying and corrupt, the citizen has to choose what he/she will do about it. To take action in the face of a corrupt government entails risks of harm to life and loved ones. To choose to do nothing is to surrender one’s self-image of standing for principles. Most people do not have the courage to face that choice. Hence, most propaganda is not designed to fool the critical thinker, but only to give moral cowards an excuse not to think at all.”-- Michael Rivero.

One of the greatest shortcomings in contemporary society is the inability of many to distinguish between right and wrong, between good and evil, as well as the lack of the spirit to fight against injustice. Fundamentally, peace and our humanity must be backed up by the spirit to challenge what is wrong. A peace that acquiesces to rampant iniquity represents the bleak stillness of a spiritual graveyard. Shutting one’s eyes to injustice is not tolerance; it is little more than cowardice and apathy. While ignoring wrongdoing may seem the easy way out, in the end it only brings unhappiness to all. The true mission of free speech is to uphold the spirit of justice, and challenge inhumanity.

“Patriotism means to stand by the country. It does not mean to stand by the President, save to the degree in which he himself stands by the country. To stand by the country means to stand by the principles on which our great Republic was founded, and honor everyone’s rights to self-determinism and individualism.”- President Theodore Roosevelt.

B. If the humans who work in and for those companies and organizations, who live off the welfare system, who will not look at what is going on in society but prefer their beer, chips and TV, who do not have a clue as to what they are doing, that makes them, in my book, fools, idiots, morons and stupid. With either A or B the damage done to us by vaccines does not change. This group of humans do the bidding, directly or indirectly, of the people in A. In actual fact, the sociopaths and criminals in A could not get their agenda across and in place without the minions in B doing the bidding for them. This is why my earlier comments about the hard/soft sell from all the institutions lined up against us pushing vaccines, the legal and political systems, the mass media, and the groups I wrote about earlier in this article, act the way they do. Group B licks the hands and bows down at the feet of group A and enjoys doing so.

Let me give you some examples to look at, to help you view what is going on.:

1. You are walking down the street, and someone riding by sees you, and with criminal, malicious, evil intent, decides to run you down. You are injured, go to the hospital, and endure surgery, pain, medical costs, rehabilitation, loss of work, etc., until you are eventually healed.

2. Another example, but this time someone driving by has a heart attack, and slumps dead or unconscious at the wheel. Same degree of injury and consequences as #1.

3. Last example: Someone driving by starts texting, and loses control of the car. Same injury and consequences to you as #1.

What is the only difference in these three examples as to the effect upon you? The only difference is how you feel mentally and emotionally about what that person did to you. If you are honest, you will feel slightly or greatly more upset with the person who tried to kill you deliberately, than through the stupidity of #3. #1 are the criminals, the sociopaths, who run this world and the organizations used against us to get their way, using vaccines and other control methods. #3 are the fools, idiots, morons and stupid's who do their bidding. I am really laying it on the line here, and not being diplomatic in my choice of words. Respect has to be earned, not given to humans who do not deserve it. #3 are the humans in Rivero's quote above.

We cannot always control what is done to us and our loved ones, but we certainly control how we react and handle what was done to us. But in this case involving vaccines, we do have total control by becoming informed and knowledgeable first. And THEN, making the right decisions for ourselves and loved ones. If you then decide to not have the vaccines in your life, I hope you will follow through on that decision. But if you decide otherwise, and want the vaccines, I respect your decision, even if I do not agree with it. That is the beautiful aspect of living in what should be a free country. We agree to disagree.

In closing, I want to mention the push by the above criminals to produce vaccines for issues that are absolutely crazy. When one peruses the internet, one can see mention that vaccines are being developed for preventing cancer, obesity, baldness, for babies in utero and on and on. I do not see mention of a vaccine to prevent human stupidity or idiocy! Now that would be a vaccine I would highly support, and demand worldwide use of. Maybe then we would finally have the Garden of Eden here on earth, and have a place to enjoy living. Oh well, one can hope and dream.
